Reading and Writing Part 3

WHY I LOVE CAMPING

by Helen Menzies

I first went camping when I was ten. I went to France for two weeks with my family and I hated the first week. It was really sunny so our tent was too hot and there were insects in it. But in the second week, I started to like it, and now I love it.

There are lots of good things about camping. We never go to the same place, so there are always new things to see, and it's great to be outside so much. But even better than those things is spending time with my mum, dad and sisters.

When we go camping, I always make new friends. I met Nadia on my first camping trip. I send her an email once a month, but she writes more than me – usually twice a month. I don't have time to write more because I email other friends from camping every week.

We live in a city, so we never camp near cities. My parents love trees and watching nature, so we most often go camping in forests. I like being at the beach, so we sometimes go to the sea, too. Once, we went camping in the mountains, but it was too cold in our tents.

Camping is a great activity for people of all ages. It's never boring because you always have adventures. Once, a horse tried to walk into our tent! Another time, there was a storm and we had to sleep in our car. You never know what will happen.
